

Cut Proposed For Missiles

Secretary of Defense Gives Report to Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy proposed today a cutback of about 1½ billion dollars in this country's programs for missile defenses against manned bombers.

He also proposed an increase of some 150 million dollars in spending on efforts to develop defense against ballistic and other missiles.

Deputy Takes Stand in Rape Trial Today

Says He Obtained Confession Soon; Four Implicated

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A sheriff's deputy testified today that within hours after the rape of a Negro coed he had a confession implicating four white youths.

The officer, W. W. Slappey, told a male white jury trying the youths for rape that he talked with the youngest, Ollie Stoutamire, 16, shortly after his arrest. Slappey testified:

"I asked him did he have intercourse with the girl. At first he said no the other three did and he didn't. I asked him again if he were sure and he said: 'Yes sir, we all did.'"

The defense fought bitterly but vainly to prevent introduction of statements taken from the quartet after their arrests. Circuit Judge W. May Walker allowed the state to proceed in offering the statements.

Of a second defendant, Patrick G. Scarborough, 20, Slappey testified:

"He said he didn't know exactly what happened, that he was asleep in the back seat."

Slappey then quoted the eldest of the defendants, Willard T. Collinsworth, 23, as saying:

"He said two of the boys had intercourse with the girl but he didn't know which two it was, but he wasn't one of them."

The defense already has admitted to the jury that Collinsworth did have relations with the coed.

Slappey did not testify as to admissions by the fourth defendant, David E. Beagles, 18, because the deputy was not present when this youth made a statement.

Slappey estimated the statements he took were made between 4 and 5 a.m. May 2, three to four hours after the girl was raped.

The witness said that after he arrested the four defendants and was taking them in his car to the jail that "they were laughing and joking and I told them that that was no time to be joking, that they could be facing the electric chair."

State Atty. William D. Hopkins scored a major point in introduction of the admissions of guilt at the trial.

Defense attorneys protested in vain that reading of the statements to the jury would deprive their clients of their constitutional rights.

Rape is a capital offense in Florida but no white man ever has been electrocuted for raping a Negro.

Governor Signs Bill

Missouri A-Energy Commission Set Up

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri's first legislative venture into the atomic energy field was signed into law by Gov. James T. Blair today.

It sets up a special state commission of five senators, five representatives and seven citizens to be appointed by the governor. They will meet quarterly to study problems in the nuclear field and recommend needed legislation or regulation to the legislature and the governor.

Inspection Is Necessary To Detect Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House board of scientists said today underground atomic tests probably could be muffled, and continued inspection would be needed to detect violations of any testing ban.

The report immediately was handed to Soviet delegates at Geneva where negotiations on nuclear tests bans are under way.

The presidential advisory board said another three years of research would be necessary to develop effective means of detecting underground atomic blasts.

It based its findings on information gained from underground shots conducted at the U.S. testing grounds in Nevada. That information, the report said, showed that much research is necessary to develop a detection system that would come up to the effectiveness previously believed possible.

The U.S. officials said, however, that the findings by the scientists under Dr. Lloyd Berkner do not change the American position in favor of halting atomic tests if a control system is set up to enforce the ban.

They said the control system being negotiated with the Soviets on the basis of earlier scientific information is basically sound.

The new scientific data sheds more light on what is needed for enforceable controls, they said.

The Berkner study was given to the Soviets at Geneva, where test ban talks have been going on since Oct. 31. It was hoped to serve as a prod to the communists to reverse previous refusals to discuss the later scientific information available from U.S. test blasts conducted in Nevada last fall.

Late Bulletins

Supports Voted Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today brushed aside administration opposition and passed, 188-177, a bill to increase price supports and cut wheat production in 1960 and 1961.

Murder Conviction

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Arthur J. Eisenman, 51, was convicted today of first degree murder in the 1933 slaying of a 6-year-old girl.

Union Plan Rejected

NEW YORK (AP)—Twelve major steel companies today rejected a union proposal that they bargain individually with the union on new wage contracts.

Members will serve without pay, except for actual expenses. The commission's life expires Jan. 15, 1965.

Sen. Albert M. Spradling (D) of Cape Girardeau, sponsor of the bill, said it would give Missouri a start in the rapidly growing field of nuclear energy.

The governor also signed a bill restricting Missouri's judicial circuits for the first time since 1901. It sets up two new circuits, giving Blair two judges to appoint when part of the law goes into effect Aug. 29, and raises the salaries of circuit, appellate and supreme court judges a flat $1,000 a year.

The new circuits are the 40th—Newton and McDonald counties—and the 42nd—Crawford, Dent, Iron, Reynolds and Wayne counties.

Also approved was a bill making the State Resources and Development Division the official state planning agency, authorizing it to receive federal grants to aid municipal and county planning.

Another one will make it a misdemeanor for anyone to supply false identification to a minor between 17 and 21 years of age. It is expected to cut down the use of false drivers' licenses and other identification for the purpose of beer and liquor.

Other bills signed in a batch of 26 included measures to:

Allow an old age assistance client to have $750 in cash or securities or a married couple $1,500 and still receive welfare aid. The old limits were $500 and $1,000.

Appropriate $3,062,000 to pay school and seminary fund indebtedness and for investment of certain school funds.

Revise the dairy law to conform with federal standards and require out of state processors using Missouri milk to have Missouri licenses.

Allow third and fourth class or special charter cities, towns and village to levy a special tax of $1 a front foot for street improvements, instead of 60 cents.

Set up a method for requiring out of state witnesses to appear in Missouri criminal proceedings when the other states have similar laws.

Require barber college training before a barber can be licensed and then an 18-months apprenticeship.

Authorize the secretary of state to reprint and distribute 45,000 copies of the state constitution as it has been amended since 1945.

Regulate manufacturers of frozen desserts under the State Department of Agriculture.

Give the St. Louis, Jackson County and St. Louis county coroners the right to order autopsies in deaths where criminal violence is suspected, and hire pathologists or other experts if necessary.

Raise dentists' registration fees, boost the pay of state dental board members from $5 to $25 a day and authorize the board to issue separate certificates to dental specialists.

Violent Thunderstorms Hit Western Area of Missouri

Tornado Strikes Farm By Carthage

Three Persons Hurt And Several Others Have Close Calls

By The Associated Press

A line of violent thunderstorms, spawning at least one small tornado, roared through western Missouri Thursday.

At least three persons were injured and widespread damage was reported in communities throughout the area as the storm bore down with winds up to 80 miles an hour, heavy hail and hard rains.

A small tornado struck the Wayne Jackson farm, 10 miles southeast of Carthage, destroyed a hay-filled barn and damaged two grain bins. Mrs. Mary Jackson, mother of four children, missed serious injury by a mere six inches as the twister broke off the top of a tree.

The storm also destroyed a barn at the Alvin Huff farm, 12 miles east of Carthage.

Small communities in Ray County felt the brunt of the storm.

Two 15,000-bushel grain elevators were blown down at Orrick.

The owner, George Gowing, estimated damage at $20,000.

Eight railway flatcars loaded with large motor truck vans were overturned on the Burlington tracks two miles east of Orrick as high winds battered the train. Other trains were derailed on old tracks to bypass the wreck as crews worked to get the cars back on the rails.

Power and communication lines were blown down at Warrensburg, Kingsville, Richmond, Camden, Orrick, Hardin, Henrietta and throughout the Kansas City metropolitan area.

An engineer on a Missouri Pacific train reported hundreds of trees between Kinsville and Warrensburg. The Missouri Highway Patrol said M-210 from Camden to Orrick was dangerous because of trees and debris on the road.

The 450 repairmen of the Kansas City Power and Light Co. worked through the night to repair damage which left more than 50,000 places without electricity.

"We know of more than 100 cases where lines were down," a spokesman said. "It was really a big blow, one of the worst we've had in a long time."

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. also dispatched crews to repair damage that knocked out about 3,750 telephones in Kansas City. A company spokesman said the damage extended all the way north to St. Joseph.

One of the hardest hit buildings was Hallmark Cards Inc. on the south fringe of the downtown area. Wind ripped off corrugated metal siding. It severed power lines and triggered a spectacular electrical display.

A 12-year-old girl was knocked unconscious when a sign blew down at 10th and Troost in Kansas City. Joyce Christwell was treated at a hospital for a scalp laceration and released.

Walter Ray Tomlinson, 56, was knocked to the ground by a bolt of lightning in the yard of his home 5 miles northwest of Webb City. He was taken to a hospital in Joplin, where doctors said he suffered shock, partial paralysis and a severe burn on his right side.

Quarter-inch hail fell at the Kansas City Municipal Airport, where winds were clocked at 66 miles an hour. The Weather Bureau said winds ranged up to 70 to 80 in some parts of the metropolitan area.

Hail one to two inches fell at Excelsior Springs and St. Joseph.

Warrensburg, Knob Noster Hit by Storm

High Winds Blow Down Trees, Wires And TV Antennas

Damaging surface winds, thunder and electrical storms did considerable damage in Warrensburg and Knob Noster Thursday afternoon. The storm struck Knob Noster about 4:10 o'clock and Warrensburg shortly after 4:30. Winds raged at between 75 and 80 miles per hour in both towns.

Only one persons was reported injured in the storm and that was in Warrensburg.

Mrs. Frank Bell, Warrensburg, was knocked away from her telephone when a bolt of lightning hit wires at the rear of her house and passed through electric wiring. She was thrown to the floor, but was not seriously injured.

She was taken to the Warrensburg Medical Center where she received treatment from Dr. Keith D. Jones, who reported she did not receive burns and is resting well at the Center.

According to Warrensburg Chief of Police James Rippy, a minor fire, caused by lightning, did a little damage to a house, but it was quickly extinguished.

He said about three out of every five streets were blocked by trees and live wires. He said numerous calls came to the station, reporting trees and utility poles burning.

It was reported that all street lights in Warrensburg were out, and communication was at a minimum.

A huge tree was uprooted by the high winds in trailer park, nearly upsetting a trailer. Rippy said the tree's roots were directly under the trailer. No damage was done to the trailer.

The police radio antenna was ripped off the court house roof, as were television antennas throughout Warrensburg. One chimney was reported to have been toppled by the winds.

It was reported that several buildings had been torn down, and a farmer said a barn on his farm had been blown down.

KOKO radio station in Warrensburg was off the air from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. due to power failure. No other injuries were reported.

A severe wind and rain storm bowled over trees, power lines and TV antennas in Knob Noster and at Whiteman Air Force Base Thursday evening. The storm struck about 4:10 o'clock and lasted about an hour. There were no injuries reported.

The weather detachment at WAFFB clocked the wind at 66 knots (about 80 miles per hour). TV antennas were blown down and a few roofs sprung leaks, but there was no major damage reported at the base.

Knob Noster was cluttered with uprooted trees and fallen limbs which took down power lines with them. Electric and telephone services were out for at least an hour all over town. Rainfall was described as "quite a bit." There was no official measure nor estimate available last night.

Woman Escapes Her Kidnaper; Three Arrested

GUYMON, Okla. (AP)—An Ohio woman dashed into police headquarters here about midnight and said she had just escaped from a man who kidnapped her in Albuquerque, N.M.

Police Chief R. L. Shephard quoted Jeanette Bailey, 25, of Akron, Ohio, as saying she had been hit in the stomach and forced to accompany the man and another couple.

Mrs. Bailey, mother of two children, had been sought since a note appealing for help was found in a service station restroom at Tucuman, N.M., Thursday.

Shephard said Mrs. Bailey related that she slipped out of a motel here to report the abduction. Police then arrested the man she said kidnapped her. The second couple was arrested in a separate room.

FBI agents were trying to establish the true identities of the three persons with Mrs. Bailey. The Ohio woman, Shephard said, told him she and her husband had been separated two weeks.

Missouri Synod Sponsors Most Foreign Missionaries

The largest number of Lutheran missionaries from the North American continent is sponsored by The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, according to statistics recently compiled by Dr. Andrew S. Burgess, professor of missions at Luther Theological Seminary in St. Paul, Minn. The Missouri Synod had 352 of a total of 1,624 missionaries on 35 foreign fields during the year 1958.

The next largest number of missionaries is supported by the Evangelical Lutheran Church, 330. The United Lutheran Church in America has 264, the American Lutheran Church 248, and the Augustana Lutheran Church 184.

The total figures include the mission activities of 12 Lutheran church bodies and two church-related agencies, according to Dr. Burgess. Africa has the largest percentage of missionaries, its total number increasing from 504 in 1956 to 547 in 1958.

A total of 172 new missionaries went to the field during 1958, while 166 returned after furloughs. During the past year The Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod opened new fields in El Salvador and Korea, while the Evangelical Lutheran Church began work in Brazil.

Since the 1956 report, the number of foreign missionaries from North America has increased by only one, the 1956 figure being 1,623. The trend toward indigenous churches in some areas explains these figures in part, according to Dr. Burgess.

In India, for example, there were 316 missionaries in 1956 as compared with only 192 this year. The United Lutheran Church in America has turned over $3,000,000 worth of mission property in India to the Andhra Evangelical Lutheran Church in India, granting the national church full control. In addition, the American Lutheran Church turned over more than $1,000,000 worth of mission property to the South Andhra Lutheran Church in India. In his report to the forthcoming convention of Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod in San Francisco this June, the Rev. Herman H. Koppelman observes that the newly organized India Evangelical Lutheran Church (which will request Missouri Synod membership at the convention) is "taking such firm grasp of its work that the need for additional missionaries from America is rapidly leveling off."

Dr. Koppelman predicts that ten additional North American missionaries a year will be required by the Missouri Synod for the next three years to meet foreign needs. A total of 23 pastors are being graduated from Missouri Synod seminaries in foreign countries this year.

The San Francisco convention of the Missouri Synod will also consider a request to begin work in the Middle East. Headquarters for this new mission field would probably be Lebanon where the Synod's radio broadcast, "The Lutheran Hour," has already developed many contacts.

The Southern Baptist Convention has two summer camps organized for the purpose of making better leaders and to help retain the many church workers throughout the convention. These camps are located at Ridgecrest, N.C., and Glorieta, N.M. Missouri Baptists also have a newly organized camp located on the Lake of the Ozarks near Camden. Several of the workers of the First Baptist Church will be attending these camps this summer.

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

By William E. Gilroy, D.D.

The story of Naaman the Syrian (II Kings 5) in the days of Elisha the prophet is one of the most vital in human interest and in suggestion of humane capabilities among all the many human interest stories of the Bible.

To me, it is a fascinating and inspiring subject — the story of how men and women have made real greatness, in spite of illness, handicaps, and frustrations that would seem to have been overwhelming and destructive.

A prime example is former United States Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

To even the bravest and most indomitable spirit there is the ultimate "point of no return," which even the strongest will and the most intense determination cannot master.

Mr. Dulles, apart from his main career as a statesman, has been known as a prominent churchman, a Presbyterian layman. Undoubtedly, his Christian convictions have had a large part in a dedicated career as a statesman.

His course has been far larger than one of personal ambition, and a place in the course of world events. He has sensed with clarity the nature and the menace of communism and its policy of world domination.

In the mixed and controversial nature of national and world politics Mr. Dulles has had his strong proponents and his keen critics, of course.

But what I am getting at is the admiration of both friends and critics for Mr. Dulles' indomitable spirit.

It ought to be an inspiration to all of us in our lesser spheres of service and duty to see how this man carried on for a long period despite operations and a grave illness and with the threat of worse ever upon him.

Only a deep dedication to a cause and duty could have made it possible.

It is an interesting circumstance that almost at the moment of Mr. Dulles' resignation Washington had been dedicating a memorial to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, a victim also of cancer, who carried on to the last with a similar dedicated spirit of public service.

In my own life I have suffered vicariously through an almost incredible number of major and minor operations and nearly fatal illnesses befalling a close companion.

And, vicariously, I have caught something of the courage as I have seen it all happening, with a determination never to become an invalid nor to develop an invalid complex.

We have come far from Naaman, the Syrian, but he conquered his pride, which is often harder to conquer than any more material handicap. In conquering his pride, he conquered his leprosy and, let us hope, went on to new conquests.

Lesson From A Broken Heart

Anatol Holt is a most thoughtful and a most compassionate man. The whole nation knows of the remarkable letter he wrote to the people of Philadelphia the morning after his three-year-old daughter was strangled by the "model" 15-year-old son of a neighbor.

He did not stop saying thoughtful things when that letter was written. Basically it was a forgiving document, saying he wanted to help the boy and understand him. It was also an appeal to parents everywhere to take care of their children, and this he made again at his daughter's funeral.

He asked those who came not to spend their time "moaning and groaning." Instead, he said, "spend it in care, because you own nothing that you do not care for."

Those words could well be emblazoned on billboards the country over. For this is an age in which there is too little caring.

Holt is thinking mainly about human beings caring for one another.

But the meaning of his words is broader.

We must care not only for family, friends, associates, humanity itself. We have to care for our possessions and those of others, to treat them well. We have to care, too, for our standing in human society as individuals who will be judged on the general counts of character and moral behavior, of ability and industry, of goals and ideals.

You own nothing that you do not care for.

The man who treats his possessions as carelessly as a picnicker might a paper plate never really takes title to them.

The man who has no pride of accomplishment, who never works his best nor his hardest, who has no goals and no standards, does not even own himself.

There can be few consolations for the tragedy of tiny Becky Holt. One of the few is that we heard the thoughtful warnings of her father. Let us hope that some will heed his words.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Possible Leak On Egg Market

(Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is serving as a delegate to the Atlantic Congress in London, his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON—Evidence has been uncovered that the Agriculture Department's decision to buy surplus frozen eggs may have been leaked in advance to commodity speculators.

Five days before the official announcement, Paul Dennis, an Augusta, Ill., poultry producer, wrote to a select list of clients: "Watch for important announcements to boost the egg market. . . . The big boys are ready to run the market up—buy two or three cars—if you get a good profit take it. Upon receipt of this letter call your friends, get them in on this quick raise in the market."

Although the Agriculture Department had put out exactly the opposite information, Dennis' prediction turned out to be uncannily accurate. Here is the curious chronology:

May 26—The Agriculture Department notified House Agriculture Chairman Harold Cooley that there was little likelihood of an increase in federal egg purchases. This news sent the price of egg futures skidding from 30 to 28.5 cents during the next two days.

May 28—Despite the Agriculture Department's official word, Dennis advised his clients to buy egg futures. He predicted a new announcement that would boost the price "one or two cents."

June 1—The price of egg futures mysteriously began creeping up, closing at 29.3 cents.

June 2—Reversing its earlier report to Cooley, the Agriculture Department announced it would start buying frozen eggs.

June 3—Egg futures hit a high of 31.4 cents. Those who had followed Dennis' advice made two to three cents a dozen—a tremendous profit if they speculated in much volume.

Dennis denied to this column that he had received "inside" information. Congressional investigators would like to know more, however, about the big boys who were "ready to run the market up." Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, the strait-laced Mormon apostle, is also checking to see whether any subordinates have egg on their faces.

Taxation WITH Representation—It's reported that Congress has issued a beautifully printed "Code of Ethics for Government Service."

I will bet a hayrick against a hatpin that it doesn't have a chapter on Congressmen putting their relatives on the payroll.

Strange oversight, ain't it?

A while back, they voted themselves a 50 per cent pay raise, and then a nice pension, new office buildings, more help, etc.

One rents his front porch; another, his garage; and several lawyers rent their offices back home, to Uncle.

A Congressman gets 22,500 $'s a year, of which 3,000 $'s is tax exempt, and is allowed 37,000 $'s a year for his help. Senators vote themselves up to 130,000 $'s a year, per Senator, for help.

How much each helper is helped is a secret of the Club.

Clare Boothe Luce reminds us that a smart horse once kicked the Senior Senator from Oregon. But there has been no Congressional investigation of: Why Did the Horse Kick Horse?

There must have been a reason. Horses have horse sense!

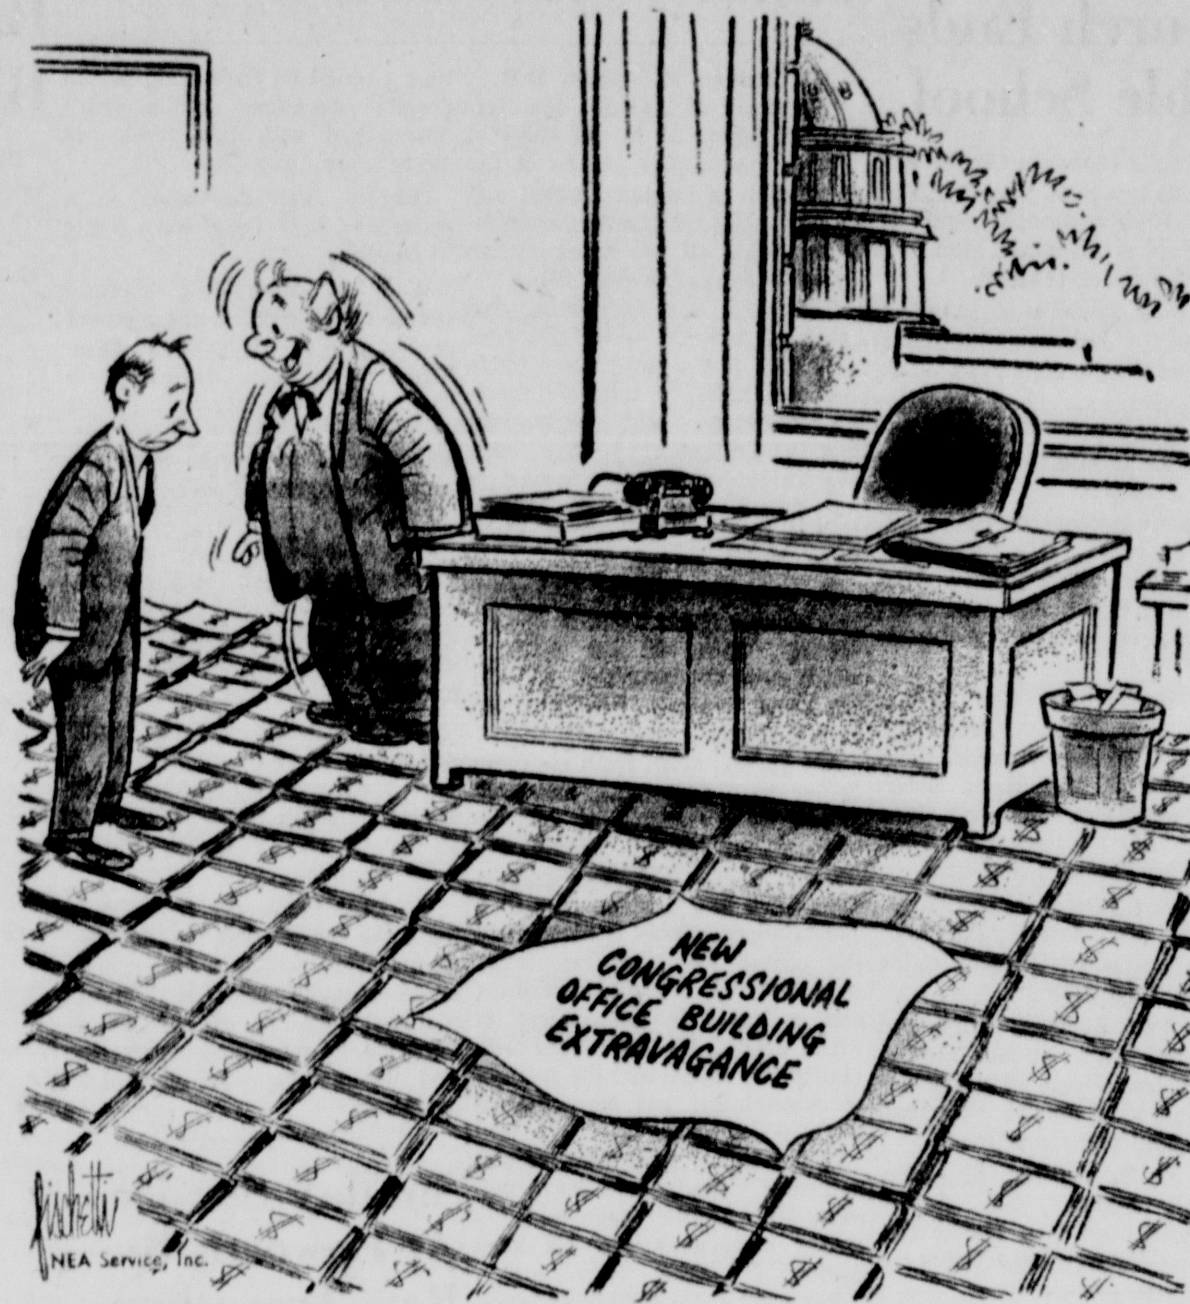

But does the public kick about renting porches to us, who pay the rent? Ah, no. There is even talk of running the porch guy for President!!

In Great Britain, members of Parliament get 4,900 $'s a year; no office space; no office help; no allowances; no pension.

Patrick Henry thought taxation without representation was awful.

What about taxation WITH representation?

"You've No Idea How Easy This Is On the Feet"

The World Today

NATO Is Probably Near Its Last Days

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—It's questionable that NATO—greatest peacetime military alliance in history—can hang together, at least as it is now with its 15 members.

Time, changes in the world, and Premier Nikita Khrushchev are all working on it. And Khrushchev's working hard.

It was a moment of terror when the Western allies, including the United States, set up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on April 4, 1949 with the understanding that an attack on one was an attack on all.

Band together in common defense or face the prospect of being picked off one at a time. That was their choice.

The year before, communism had gulped down Czechoslovakia. And in April 1949 Stalin, with his blockade of Berlin, had forced the United States into its historic air-lift to save the city.

At that hour in history NATO gave the Allies a greater sense of security than they ever had before or since.

Looking Backward...

TEWNTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A retail trade authority to function as a supervisory board for the NRA retail code here was set up at a mass meeting of Sedalia merchants at Bothwell Hotel. E. H. McLaughlin was elected chairman, Arthur Hoffman secretary, and Arthur Scott treasurer.

1934
Harry Jewell, president and publisher of the Springfield Daily News and Leader, and Mrs. Jewell motored to Sedalia and spent a short time as guests at the home of Mrs. Alice Scruton, 724 West Third. They were accompanied by Miss Grace Hinton, who had been their guests several days.

1934
A Wood-for-Congress Club was organized Monday night to boost candidacy of R. T. Wood, Springfield, for the Democratic nomination to that office. Mary McGruder was elected president, R. J. Mann vice-president, Miss Eva Jane Lewis secretary, and Emmet Sullivan treasurer.

1934
Mrs. Sam Horowitz and son, Danny L. Jamaica, L.I., were here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Goldin, Sixth and Arlington.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Dr. F. C. Reid, veterinary surgeon, formerly of LaMonte, was electrocuted at Arkadelphia, Ark., when he took hold of a gutter charged with 2300 volts of electricity during a fire at a residence there.

1919
H. A. Woodworth, manager of the Economy Steam Heating and Electric Co., and family left for Michigan for the summer. They were to return about Sept. 1.

1919
W. J. Letts, 1120 East Fifth, one of Sedalia's pioneer business men, died Thursday morning. Many years he operated a grocery business at Fifth and Engineer.

1919
Wade Jared, who had been attending Drury College at Springfield, arrived home for his summer vacation.

They had a terrifying superiority over Stalin because, if he attacked, the European Allies could hold him off with their ground forces while the United States flattened the Soviets with atomic bombs. That was the theory.

At that instant the United States alone had the atomic bomb. But it was a monopoly which, at the very minute the NATO treaty came into existence, was beginning to disappear.

Early in 1949 the Soviet Union was putting the finishing touches on its own atomic bomb which it was to explode for the first time later in the year. The United States went on to develop the hydrogen bomb. But so did the Soviets by 1953.

For lack of determination, the huge land forces which NATO members were supposed to produce never materialized. And, meanwhile, something else happened which made even the fairly small land forces they produced look even smaller.

The Soviets and the United States both developed missiles for crossing continents. Even President Eisenhower acknowledged last March that Allied armies in Europe did not mean much any more because they were overwhelmingly outnumbered by the Soviet Union.

The United States, with its fleets of bombers and their hydrogen bombs based at friendly stations around the Soviet perimeter, can still discourage a Soviet attack. This is still a consolation to the NATO members.

But it is a mixed consolation because of one thing: The world is in a transition period, passing from the day of the bomber to the era of the missile.

The United States is arranging to surround the Soviet Union—again at friendly stations on Allied soil—with bases for missiles which have their noses pointed at Moscow. In time, when there are enough missiles, the bombers will be obsolete.

But the Soviets are building in the Soviet Union their own bases for missiles pointed westward. In time, with enough hydrogen-headed missiles, Khrushchev could destroy Western Europe.

But it's a pipe-dream if the West thinks the United States can build missile posts right next door to the Iron Curtain and that the Soviets will keep all its own missile bases strictly inside the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev showed what a pipe-dream it is by warning Turkey and Greece, both NATO members not to permit American missile bases in their territory unless they want him to build missile bases right next door in the Soviet satellites, Albania and Bulgaria.

And Thursday he cautioned two other NATO members—Norway and Denmark—against permitting missile bases within their frontiers. He indirectly proposed that they get out of NATO altogether.

As bait for these four NATO members, he proposed to Greece and Turkey that there be a nuclear-free, missile-free zone from Central Europe to the Mediterranean; to Norway and Denmark he proposed a similar nuclear-free zone in Scandinavia.

It is perhaps significant that Khrushchev, Stalin's successor, is trying to terrorize Greece and Turkey. Stalin tried the same, in another way, back in the late 1940's.

Stalin tried to shake Berlin free of the Western grip in 1949. Now, 10 years later, when he feels strong enough, Khrushchev is trying to shake Berlin free of the West.

As Soviet missile power grows and as Khrushchev steps up his campaign to keep American missile bases out of NATO countries, those countries will feel more and more pressure to cut loose from NATO since, if war came, they'd be the nearest targets.

The world may be puzzled by Khrushchev's tactics over Berlin right now. But you can be sure this is just the beginning of a concentrated campaign, to be carried on for years, to shake NATO to pieces.

And even one of the NATO stalwarts, France, made the whole structure shudder this week when President Charles de Gaulle insisted upon having control over any nuclear stockpiles this country wanted to set up in France.

STRAIGHT-A STUDENTS—These students of the atom will receive the first degrees awarded by the University of Illinois' new nuclear engineering school. From left, Leon W. Florschuettz of Paw-Paw, Ill.; Joseph P. Castro of Bristol, R.I.; and Harlan W. Johnson of Urbana, Ill. They get master of science in nuclear engineering degrees at commencement exercises.

High Interest Rate Plan

Ideas Differ On Nostrum For Control of Inflation

By Robert E. Hennessee

Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON—Congress almost certainly will balk like a Missouri mule at the President's proposal to combat inflation by reducing the amount of money in circulation.

The President's recent proposal to raise interest rates on money the government borrows has long been expected and represents the most conservative of all economic philosophies—economic stability by money scarcity.

Eisenhower wishes to sell long-term government bonds, ostensibly as a means for raising revenue, but in reality to take money out of circulation. To sell long-term bonds, he needs higher interest rates to offer, as money already is a very expensive item to borrow, more expensive, in fact, than at any time since the Depression.

With less money in circulation, the President believes, the dollar will become more valuable, prices will begin a decline, and the danger of inflation will subside.

Economists differ widely about our present economic situation. Some contend the economy is booming and that inflation is our greatest danger, that despite a tight money policy the boom will continue.

Other economists express doubt that we have recovered soundly from the 1957-58 recession, which was brought about by a tight-money policy. If interest rates go up, they say, the economy may once again go into a tailspin and we'll have to spend another two years bringing it out.

Even Vice President Nixon is said to differ with President Eisenhower on the high interest rate plan. His reasoning is that inflation is not apt to get out of control under present restrictive policies of the Federal Reserve Board but that the interest plan, if put into effect, might, just might, bring down another recession. And that would put the noose around the GOP neck in 1960.

Tips to Help You Uncover That Job for the Summer

By FAYE HENLE

Don't despair, you who have not already found a summer job.

Although there are more students seeking employment this summer than last, the official word is that the number of job opportunities is greater. The U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security reports that in many areas, due to our expanding economy, employers are hiring more people in manufacturing as well as in seasonal industries.

They highlight the following as offering better than usual opportunity:

The construction industry, zooming to record-breaking levels.

An upswing in travel which will open up employment possibilities in hotels, motels, summer camps and resorts. The demand for camp counselors, dining room and kitchen help is on the increase.

A favorable outlook for agricultural jobs which was a source of employment for almost a million young workers last year.

How should you go about finding a job? Here is what the experts say:

Start by asking relatives, friends and friends of friends. The most interesting and sought-after jobs are those that you get via personal contacts.

Widen your search to cover the offices of nearby plants and companies as well as neighborhood stores, movie theaters or homes if you'd like to baby-sit. Those who know you or your family will be more apt to hire you than to hire a stranger.

Local schools and colleges often have placement bureaus. While their own students generally get first call on jobs, you might find a lucky break there.

The help wanted ads in your local paper could offer a rich mine of leads.

Only if the above should fail, say the authorities, should you go to your local United States Employment Service.

What can you expect to earn?

Pay for junior counselors at day camps averages between $75 and $100 a season; at resident camps the pay is upward of $100 for the season.

At resort hotels and adult camps, experienced bookkeepers, stenographers, clerk-typists and switchboard operators can get between $100 and $200 per month plus room and board. Here a trend toward waitresses rather than waiters is noted with wages ranging from $30 a month up, plus tips, room and board. (Last summer an experienced college girl brought $1,500 home from her waitress job at a large resort hotel.)

Clerical replacements who can type and take shorthand can earn between $45 and $60 weekly. Here you may be asked to take a proficiency exam. Replacements in retail stores usually get $40 a week and up.

Seasonal park helpers and playground assistants get $9 a day. Inexperienced soda clerks earn $1 to $1.25 an hour, countermen at drugstores, amusement parks, etc., get $25 to $50 per week depending on tips. Tricycle-riding ice cream vendors working from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. can average $40 to $50 weekly on commissions ranging from 23 to 26 per cent of sales.

Farm jobs under the cadet program for high school students net you $50 per month plus room and board for the inexperienced; up to $80 for experienced workers.

Tip for the ambitious: try to get a job in a line of work you hope to pursue after you graduate from high school or college.

Dr. Jordan Says

Ringworms Is Misnomer For Windspread Fungus Disease

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Mrs. H. asks for information about ringworm, how to get rid of it, and whether it has anything to do with diet. Like others, she is particularly anxious to know how to get rid of it.

This skin disorder is not related to diet. Ringworm is not caused by a worm, and its appearance on the skin is by no means always in the shape of a ring.

It is often also called athlete's foot, but is not always on the foot and occurs in many people besides athletes. Its correct name is dermatophytosis.

This disease is caused by fungi, which belong to the plant world. These fungi grow best in the damp and dark. They will last for some time on towels which are not dry, or on damp floors.

Hence there is more likely to be trouble with them in warm weather when more people use locker rooms and engage in athletics. Of course, infections are often spread at other times of the year in gymnasiums and indoor swimming pools.

The fungi do not thrive in the absence of moisture. For this reason the feet should be kept clean and dry, the socks and shoes dried and aired frequently, and towels should be completely dry and never shared.

A dusting powder consisting of 10 per cent boracic acid in powdered talc to be used on the feet twice a day has also been recommended. This could be used on the groin too, especially by anyone who is more or less exposed.

Even with precautions, however, it seems unlikely that this disease will disappear.

Usually it produces some itching and scaling, cracking or some other peculiar appearance of the skin. Occasionally the symptoms can be really severe. On the other hand the symptoms can be so mild as to pass practically unnoticed.

Self-treatment is undesirable because the drugs contained in some of the preparations used may set up a secondary irritation of the skin. Some of my skin specialist friends have told me that they have more trouble treating the skin of those who had worked on themselves than they do with the disease.

In recent years some doubt has been cast on the contagiousness of ringworm. For example, a number of healthy volunteers placed their feet in water which had been contaminated with the fungi causing ringworm, but not one of them caught the disease.

Thus it seems that susceptibility, the reasons for which are still obscure, is about as important as being exposed to the fungi.

Kiwanis Club Hears R. M. Kinne

Bright Future Seen for State Due to Natural Resources

Because of its tapped and untapped natural resources, its location and aggressiveness, Missouri's outlook in the industrial development field has tremendous possibilities during the next 15 years, and thereafter, according to Richard M. Kinne, of the Missouri Division of Resources and Development, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Kinne, who was introduced by Program Chairman John Harned, called attention to the present iron ore and mining developments in southeast Missouri where estimates place 75 billion tons of high grade ore deep underground. In 15 years Missouri should be the chief mineral producing state in the nation, he said.

The speaker noted that Missouri manufacturers were presently engaged in modernizing equipment rather than expanding plants. He commended Sedalians for participating in the educational program of advertising its progress in the up-coming newspaper Progress Edition which will be published Sunday.

"The people should be made aware of what your manufacturers and businesses are producing," Kinne declared. "And in preparing for the future Sedalia should can request to see a bowler perform any stunt — within reason — for the price of a contribution have available an industrial park of three to four hundred acres; the present industrial park is not large enough."

Invocation was by the Rev. Walter Niles.

Special guests introduced by R. C. Hemphill were: Cassandra Bell, valedictorian, and Norma Clark, salutatorian, of Hubbard High School.

Norman Pitcairn reported on activities in preparation for the Crippled Children's Bowling benefit at Broadway Lanes Friday night, and the Kiwanis Auction June 27.

Club singing was led by Russell Maag with Miss Lillian Fox, accompanist and a special quartette number by Maag, Miss Fox, Joe Allen and the Rev. Arthur Schmidt.

The birthday song was sung for George Ray and the Rev. Mr. Schmidt who celebrate their anniversaries on June 14.

Guests were: The Rev. William E. Lusk, Lebanon, who will become rector of Calvary Episcopal church July 1. He was introduced by Henry Salveter; A. H. Wilks, Jr., Enid, Okla., with his father, A. H. Wilks; Ensign Robert V. Morgan who recently graduated from Annapolis and leaves next month for ship duty out of Hawaii. He was introduced by his father A. J. Morgan. The Rev. Modified Stock Cars Race Saturday Night

T-Bowl Card Will Include Novel Event

A novel "pie race" will be included on the card Saturday night when the top drivers of the Central Missouri Racing Association vie at Sedalia's Thunderbowl Speedway with the finest modified stock cars in the midwest.

Drivers participating in the pie race will duel in three laps of racing, stop and eat a whole pie, and then drive another lap to determine the winner. The victor will be compensated by a cash prize.

Saturday night's field at the Thunderbowl promises to be the finest in recent weeks. At a meeting of the Central Missouri Racing Association in Marshall on Tuesday night, several drivers who have not been regulars on the Sedalia track said they would be in the field. The management at the Thunderbowl anticipates a field of 25 modified stocks and about 15 claim cars. Time trials at the Thunderbowl will begin at 7:45 p.m.

Ken Taylor of Slater continues to lead the field in the battle for the point championship of the Central Missouri Racing Association. Over the season, the defending Missouri Modified Stock Car Champion has amassed 2,810 points.

Roy Hibbard of Marshall is running in second spot and is challenging for the lead. He has 2,605 points. If Taylor suffered a poor night and Hibbard chalked up victories in the feature and heat events, he would lack only a few points of the lead. Both drive cars powered by Pontiac engines, and as fans saw at Marshall on Sunday night, both are running to perfection.

Hibbard's brother, Russ, is in third place with 2,415 points. His rapid rise in recent weeks makes it appear that he might be headed for the No. 1 position. Although Russ hasn't copied the checkered flag very often, he has been a top finisher in nearly every race this season—and that's how points in the CMRA are tabulated.

Torch Aleshire of Moberly, driving a Studebaker powered modified, is running fourth with 2,305 points. Aleshire walked off with top money at Moberly last week and was nosed out by inches in a spectacular duel with Ken Taylor at Marshall Sunday night. He has installed a "stoker kit" and his propane burning modified appears to be running better than it has at any previous time this season.

Columbia's Walter Sorrels, the flying junkman who also pilots a Pontiac modified, has 2,175 points, but is winning his share of the big purses. He's been the winner of the last two races in Sedalia, taking the rich Midwest Modified Motorama on Memorial Day at the Missouri State Fair and last Saturday's feature at the Thunderbowl.

With these five drivers heading the card of top notch drivers, the races at the Thunderbowl Speedway on Saturday night promise to offer the usual thrills seen on the modified stock car tracks of the Central Missouri Racing Association.

Matter of FACT

Animals native to the Hawaiian Islands are rare. Only one, a small bat, is definitely known to be native. The ancient Hawaiians introduced dogs, hogs and perhaps rats and mice. Sheep, goats, cattle, horses and other animals were brought in after the islands were discovered by Europeans. There are hundreds of bird species, some of which are found only on the islands.

Lane, Ortiz Get Chance At the Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenny Lane and Carlos Ortiz get their chance for a world boxing championship tonight although it isn't the title they have been shooting at for years.

Lane and Ortiz will battle 12 rounds or less at Madison Square Garden for the revived junior welterweight crown. This division, inactive since 1946, is halfway between the light and welter classes with a weight limit of 140 pounds.

Both the New York State Athletic Commission and the National Boxing Assn. agreed to recognize the winner of this bout as the titleholder. Duilio Loi of Italy, the European welter king, already has agreed to meet the new champ in the Garden Aug. 21. It is close to a pick 'em even money fight with a slight edge to Lane.

The fight will be seen and heard on network (NBC) radio and television, starting at 9 p.m. (EST). Even if no title were at stake, this would be an interesting rematch of a Dec. 31 battle between the two men at Miami Beach, Fla.

Lane, 27, won a majority decision in that 10-round match. Two officials had him ahead in the "10-point must" system. The other two scored it even.

Under New York rules, two judges and a referee will score the bout by rounds, using a supplementary point system in case of even rounds.

Lane has been yelling for another shot at Joe Brown's lightweight championship ever since he lost a close and disputed verdict to the champ at Houston last June 25. The talented southpaw from Muskegon, Mich. is the No. 1 contender in the lightweight (135 pound) class. Ortiz, 22, is No. 2. He never has had a chance at the crown.

Something Eerie About Podres' Record in June

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — For Johnny Podres, there's something a little eerie about having a 7-2 record in June.

Almost any other pitcher with such a record, and with a pair of two-hite shutouts on the books, might be expected to entertain thoughts about winning 20 games.

Johnny refuses to. "Take 1954," the Los Angeles southpaw said after shutting out Philadelphia 11-0 Thursday night on two hits. "I was 7-3 in June and then I had appendicitis". He finished with an 11-7 record.

Then there was 1957. That was the year the 26-year-old southpaw led the league with a 2.66 earned run average and with six shutouts. But arm trouble struck in the middle of June. It kept him out of action for a time and it had a lot to do, he said, with his 12-9 finish.

"I'd like to win 20 games," Podres admitted reluctantly, "but it's better to think from game to game for a while."

Dodgers Manager Walt Alton was taking the same cautious approach. "He's off to a good start on 20 games," Alton said, "and he

Star Athlete Signs With KC Athletics

A star athlete this past school year with Westport High School has signed a professional contract with the Kansas City Athletics for play with Grand Island, Neb., of the Nebraska State League. Jay Harlan Bucher of 4021 McGee will report to Grand Island on June 18. Bucher, a catcher, played basketball and football for Westport and in both sports he was named to all-star teams. He was basketball captain at Westport, all-district, and all-city, and was recently named to the inter-city team that played in Municipal Auditorium. However, he did not play because of becoming a professional athlete.

He was also all-city and all-district in football. He was awarded seven letters at Westport.

Bucher is just 17 years old, weighs 196, bats and throws right, and is 6 feet, two inches. He was signed by Joe Bowman, Athletic's scout in Missouri.

might make it if his back doesn't bother him. He's always been a good pitcher with a mixture of curves, a fast ball and a change up, and when he's consistent, he's the best southpaw in the league."

First Two Hitter

Southpaw Puts Away Two Games In Three Weeks

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took Johnny Podres five years and a little more than a month to pitch his first two-hitter in the majors. Now the stocky southpaw has put away two in less than three weeks.

He got the second Thursday night, giving up only a leadoff single by Richie Ashburn and a fourth-inning single by Wally Post while pitching Los Angeles to an 11-0 victory over the Phillies at Philadelphia. That gave the Dodgers full command of third place in the National League.

Podres' 15th shutout in the majors left the Dodgers within two games of second place San Francisco, beaten 12-9 at Pittsburgh. That plunked the Giants two games back of Milwaukee's first place Braves, who won 8-0 at St. Louis behind Bob Buhl's five-hitter.

Don Newcombe also collected a shutout, giving up nine hits while winning his fifth in a row in an 8-0 Cincinnati victory at Chicago. The loss dropped the Cubs into a fourth place tie with Pittsburgh.

In the American League, southpaw Billy Pierce pitched the fourth one-hitter of his career for a 3-1 decision at Washington that gave the Chicago White Sox a 1½-game lead. Cleveland took second place from Baltimore by beating the Orioles 2-1. Detroit reclaimed fourth place with an 8-1 romp at Boston while Kansas City slipped New York to fifth by belting the Yankees 9-5.

The Dodgers made it a breeze for Podres by rapping five Phil pitchers for 19 hits. Robin Roberts (4-5) was the loser.

Podres, who has pitched seven three-hitters in his career, struck out six and gave up three walks.

Buhl (6-3), coming back after last year's arm trouble, won his fourth in a row with his second shutout. He walked four, struck out eight. The Braves, who had lost two straight, collected five runs on homers by Casey Wise and Del Crandall. Wilmer Mizell (7-3) was the loser.

Things were sloppy at Pittsburgh. The Pirates and Giants combined for a dozen errors and 11 unearned runs. Two errors set up a five-run eighth for the Bucs against losing reliever Stu Miller (3-2). That saved it for unbeaten Roy Face, who won his 14th in a row in relief of Bob Friend after giving up Willie Mays' three-run pinch homer in the eighth.

Dick Stuart hit his 10th homer for the Bucs and Willie Kirland hit his ninth and 10th for the Giants, giving him four in four days.

Newk (6-4) gained his 23rd shutout, but first since Aug. 21, 1957, with his fifth straight complete game. Roy McMillan's three-run homer, his ninth, wrapped it up against loser Moe Drabowsky (4-5) in the second inning.

KMOS-TV Takes Ball Game to Man In Connecticut

A Bridgeport, Conn., television viewer got a real surprise the afternoon of June 6 when audio signals were poor and video fluttered on other channels.

Richard Morris of that city, in a letter to KMOS-TV, said that after numerous tries he found the audio on Channel 6 excellent but video none. He heard the broadcast of the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees game but did not know the station he was listening to until he heard the name Sedalia mentioned on a commercial break. Checking his radio log he found the Sedalia station listed and wrote to KMOS-TV telling of his experience.

"I was really surprised to hear that I was listening to your station 1,300 miles away," Morris wrote. "Your station is by far my best TV DX catch."

Children Escape Injury When Two Tree Limbs Fall
Two large limbs fell off a tree, one of them blocking the street at 217 East St. Louis, about 6:35 p. m. Thursday. Only moments earlier Sgt. Charles E. Rowan, who lives at that address and is stationed at Whiteman AFB, had called his young children out from under the tree, where they had been playing, for fear of such an incident.
The limbs, both about a foot in diameter and 30 feet long, had been weakened by rotting, and recent winds. Smaller limbs had recently fallen from the tree, and it was this that had alerted Rowan to the possibility that the larger ones may fall.
Rowan, noticing the threatening weather, had called his boys, Willie, 3, and Shan, 2, into the house only about ten minutes before the limbs fell.
The Sedalia police department was called to remove the limb that blocked the street.

How Short Are Shorts?
PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—How short are short shorts?
The city commission didn't say when it banned them, and the issue is still unresolved.
So when police arrested Lise Fournier, 21, of Montreal Thursday, they had her husband measure her shorts on the spot.
Now it's up to Judge Irving Goldman to decide whether 12 1/2 inches is too short. While he pondered the matter, he released Mrs. Fournier on $5 bail.

were identical dresses of flaring organza patterned in velvety and hand tinted in pastel blue and green. The empire bodice was defined by a band of pale blue satin and their headresses were bandeaux of blue satin. They wore wrist corsages of pink carnations.

Mrs. Donald Thomas, as matron of honor, wore a ballerina dress of light blue Chantilly lace over taffeta. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Lynn Richardson, daughter of Mrs. Ruby Richardson, Tipton, was flower girl. Charles Gene Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Thomas, was ring bearer.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, with guests numbering 200.

The bride's table had a lace cover and centered with a three tier cake adorned with a miniature bride and groom and encircled with red rosebuds. On either side were white lighted tapers and on the table, also, was an arrangement of pink and white mums.

Serving were Mrs. John Watring and Mrs. Francis Henderson. Miss Fay Hirst of Tipton was in charge of the guest book.

The couple went to Illinois, Kentucky and Southern Missouri on a wedding trip. For traveling the

Widow's Life Worth Living, Says Writer

TODAY'S WOMEN
By DOROTHY ROE

When a wife becomes a widow life may not seem worth living—but it is, says Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., who shared high adventure for 34 years with her famous husband.

Alive, alert and vital to her fingertips is this fragile-looking grandmother, who has written the story of her life with T.R. Jr., "Day Before Yesterday," a lively, tender and often stirring picture of the great and the near-great in a half century of American history. Though her husband was the most important influence in her life, and though she shared a closer companionship with him than do most wives, Mrs. Roosevelt at 70 looks forward to new adventures.

"There are still a few places in the world I haven't seen, and I want to see them," she says. "And if I get a chance to take a trip on a space ship, I'll do it like a shot!"

"I've had so many projects that couldn't be neglected that I have not had time to withdraw from any part of life. There are my children and my grandchildren. And there has been this book. I started it 10 years ago, put it away for five years, and then started again. For the last three years I've worked on it almost constantly."

Mrs. Roosevelt wrote the book herself—not merely by dictating to a secretary or a tape recorder, but by doing the actual typing.

Since her husband's death Mrs. Roosevelt has made four trips to Europe as a member of the American Battle Monuments Commission. Her home in Oyster Bay, Long Island, now is shared with the widow of her son Quentin and his three daughters: Alexandra, 14, Anna, 12 and Susan, 11. In addition she has three other grandchildren: William and Eleanor McMillan, children of her daughter, Grace; and Theodore Roosevelt IV, 16, son of Ted III, universally known among family and friends as "T-Four." Her son, Cornelius, is still a bachelor.

Mrs. Roosevelt also has kept busy compiling 26 scrapbooks of family pictures and clippings, with explanatory comments. She has served overseas during two world wars, has accompanied her husband to practically every corner of the earth, including a tiger shoot in India and a tour of duty in the Philippines when he was governor general.

By the way, Mrs. Roosevelt's first name is Eleanor, but she says: "I seldom use it—makes things so confusing, you know."

TO SLEEP, PERCHANCE TO DREAM—A surgeon's hand hesitates momentarily over the tiny body of Kim Smith, only eight hours old. The infant was undergoing a life-or-death operation on his deformed esophagus in Children's Hospital, Denver, Colo. Dramatic photo captures one brief scene in the successful two-hour operation. Without it, Kim would have died of starvation within a few days. Hospital authorities report that the infant is making satisfactory progress.

Washington at Night

Jazz Really Gets Going, Right in Nation's Capital

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—The piano sets the pace and the pitch the brass brays, then the clarinet comes on—cool as a robin on a spring-blossomed limb, wild as the writhings of an Arab girl dancer.

And then, man you've got jazz going.

Where? Right here in your nation's capital.

Only reason I mention this is that tourists and most natives—the natives mostly flee to their suburbs at 5:01 p.m.—have the false impression that Washington folds up its sidewalks, turns off Congress and wraps the White House in cotton wool at sunset.

But Washington is one of the swingin'est jazz towns in the U.S.A.

There's Charlie Byrd at the Showboat, bogging and weaving over a guitar that twangs out rhythms which would drive a Gypsy mad.

There's Wild Bill Whelan at the Bayou, probably wearing a mad plaid jacket, blowing his lungs out through the bell of a trumpet.

And maybe best of all, if you will allow a personal preference, there is Booker Coleman at the Charles Lounge, with a Dixieland-type combo the like of which you are not going to hear this side of New Orleans and maybe not there.

Booker is a comfortably large Negro who sits at a grand piano, which he tunes himself, and, with his head swinging side to side like a jazzed-up metronome, and a pungent six-cent cigar at a 45-degree angle, wrings melody out of that piano.

There's always rock 'n' roll and hillbilly.

An outfit known as the Treniers is at the Casino Royal. I haven't heard them, and am not about to. They sound like, even at a distance, more than an old man can stand.

Astaire Not Inspired By Adele's Dance

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Things I learned about Fred Astaire by reading his autobiography, "Steps in Time":

He doesn't like top hat, white tie and tails.

He claims "I am always arriving at dinner parties not wearing a dinner jacket when I should, or vice versa."

He wasn't inspired when he watched his sister Adele in dancing school — "Dancing was merely something my sister did, something that all little girls did. I let it go at that and the hell with it."

Fred's father, a beer maker from Austria, was the stage-struck one in the family. He sent his wife and two children to New York to seek stage careers for the youngsters.

Fred used to date Ginger Rogers in 1930, before either of them entered movies — "we danced now and then for fun, with no plans whatsoever of working together."

His exclamation to his wife when he saw himself on the first time in "Dancing Lady": "My gosh, I look like a knife!"

The legend that Mrs. Astaire prohibited him from kissing Ginger in their costarring films is false. "It was my idea to refrain from mushy love scenes, partly because I hated doing them and also because it was somewhat novel not to have sticky clinches in a movie."

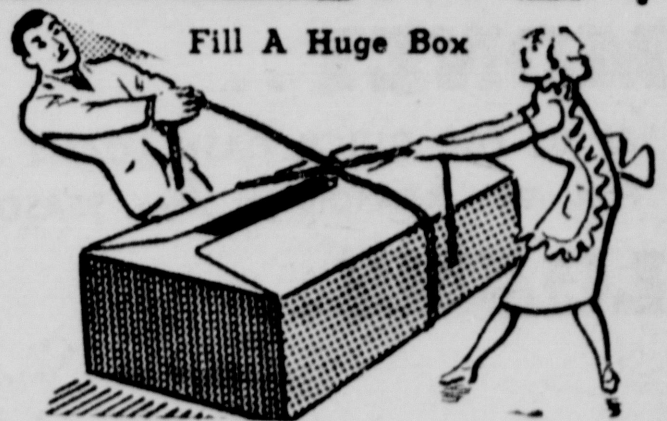

And if you don't like music at all, or at least nonclassical music, we've got live burlesque, and night clubs on the outskirts that would make a traveling salesman blush.

Just wanted you to know that Congress doesn't put on the only show in town.

Explosion Injuries 38

Planted Bomb In Elevated Station

BOSTON (AP)—A bomb which police said was planted in a locker at a Boston rapid transit elevated station exploded with war-time force Thursday.

At least 38 persons were injured, some seriously, and an area within 100 yards of the station resembled ruins of a war-shattered community.

No one was killed but 11 were reported seriously injured.

The blast wrecked sections of the station superstructure and shattered hundreds of windows in adjoining buildings, including almost one entire panel of an industrial structure.

State Police Capt. Gerald F. McCarthy, attached to the state fire marshal's office, said it was apparent that someone placed a high explosive in a public locker in the station.

"A test on some of the locker pieces shows sulphide residue characteristic with black powder," McCarthy said.

Fire Chief Leo C. Driscoll said: "We are positive there was something of a foreign nature in those lockers."

William V. Ward, a trustee of the Metropolitan Transit Authority which operates the system, said the explosion did not occur in MTA equipment.

He said authorities reached that conclusion "because of the velocity of the blast which carried as high as the ninth floor of buildings adjoining the MTA structure."

Investigators said there appeared to be no equipment in the passenger station—near the North railroad station—which could have gone off by itself.

The injured were taken to Massachusetts General and City hospitals.

Streets adjoining the elevated station were strewn with wreckage and shattered glass when fire fighters and rescue squads converged on the scene.

Eye witnesses likened the blast to "a volcano" or the force created by the landing of a 500-pound shell.

Three heroic Marines raced with police into the station directly after the blast to remove several men who had been blown across the platform and into submerged tracks which contain a third live rail.

Dollars and Weapons Are Problems

Pentagon Works Late on Air Defense Plan for Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department worked Thursday to fit dollars and weapons into an air defense Master Plan which must be handed Congress Friday.

Pentagon fiscal and missile experts held all-day sessions. Final details were left for conferences running into the night.

Instructions on the general nature of the plan—which involves the rousing controversy between the Army and Air Force over missiles—were handed two days ago at a White House meeting.

There Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy presented his proposal for a compromise which would create a "mix" of both the Air Force Bomarc and the Army Nike-Hercules missiles, plus conventional interceptor plane defense.

There was speculation that the Master Plan included a cutback on the numbers of missile units for each service and assumed that this could mean a corresponding saving in money outlay.

Pentagon officials, obviously awed by emphatic instructions from the White House about talking prematurely, had little to say.

However, some counseled caution in predicting any immediate large savings, and were not too certain even about the extent of long-range economy.

McElroy is committed to handing the Senate Armed Services Committee the administration's plan by 10 a. m. Friday.

The job of reconciling the sharply conflicting proposals of the Army and Air Force while attempting to make at least token reductions in costs devolved primarily on two of McElroy's top aides—Wilfred J. McNeil, assistant secretary and comptroller; and William M. Holaday, McElroy's special assistant for missiles.

The Master Plan had been worked over first by the military chiefs of the Army, Air Force and Navy. McElroy said last week that the Joint Chiefs of Staff had failed to reach complete agreement although the disagreement was "not as great as some people might anticipate."

No Headway In St. Louis Paper Strike

Some Guildsmen of Recent Strike Say It's Not Justified

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A stereotypers union strike against the afternoon Post-Dispatch continued Thursday night after more than four hours of negotiations.

Another session has been set for Friday afternoon.

The strike has deprived St. Louis of both of its daily newspapers because the Pulitzer Publishing Co., which publishes the Post, prints the rival morning Globe-Democrat under contract.

The conciliation meeting, with Federal Conciliator Arthur R. Hale presiding, broke up at 3 p. m. (CDT).

Both sides, as well as Hale, joked with reporters but declined to discuss what went on behind the big doors of the meeting room in the old city post office.

Asked for comment, R. G. Baumhoff, personnel manager of the Post-Dispatch, smiled and said, "It looks like it's going to rain."

Morris Levin, union attorney, said only, "any comment must come from Mr. Hale."

Hale said, "We'll be working at it again Friday."

He had said earlier he did not want to make any comment that might arouse either side and declined to pose for television cameras for that reason.

Wednesday several members of the International Typographical Union crossed the stereotypers' picket line. Thursday they were joined by several members of the American Newspaper Guild.

Guildsmen, who recently finished a 99-day strike against the Globe, reported for work at the papers. A spokesman for the ones who went to work said they simply did not feel the strike was justified. The guild local has sanctioned the strike but it is up to the individual whether to cross the line, a guild spokesman said.

A dispute about stereotype "base" material and mountings for pictures caused the walkout. The Post says union negotiators approved the clause covering that in a new contract but the membership rejected it. There was no argument about the other items of the new contract, which provides the workers with a $10 a week raise this year and $5 next. Base pay now is $119. A total of 69 stereotypers and apprentices are involved.

Two Youths Killed In Car-Plunge Into The Pacific Ocean

HALF MOON BAY, Calif. (AP)—An auto plunged over Devil's Slide into the Pacific eight miles north of here Wednesday night, killing two youths and injuring three others. The scene is on a winding, narrow coastal road 15 miles south of San Francisco.

Devil's Slide has been the scene of many accidents. At least 30 wrecked cars are at the bottom of the cliff.

West Warns Conference May Collapse Unless Reds Give

By 4th Region Commander

Sidelights on Missile Defense Here Given

Some sidelights on what constitutes missile defense of certain areas in this country, such as Whiteman Air Force Base and Kansas City, were given in a talk by Col. Leslie J. Staub, commanding officer, 4th Region, Army Air Defense command, before members of the Air Base Community Council meeting at the Whiteman AFB Officers Club Wednesday night.

Col. Staub and Lt. Col. Ralph L. Miller, commanding officer of the 5th Missile Battalion, 55th Artillery, were special guests at the meeting called to discuss plans for the July 3-4-5 Jubilee at the base. The two officers previously had participated in a program in Kansas City starting activation of Nike-Hercules missile bases in the Greater Kansas City area. Seventy-five young men were sworn into units before assignment to eight weeks of basic training.

Two Nike-Hercules missile bases are planned for the Whiteman area—one near Stockley in northwest Pettis County and one near Sutherland in southeast Johnson County.

Col. Staub described the Nike-Hercules missile as a ground-to-air supersonic weapon used in defense against air attack. The missile may be armed with either an atomic or conventional high explosive warhead. Each battery is made up of about 100 officers and men. Certain modifications in existing ground control equipment make it possible for the Nike-Hercules to be integrated into existing Nike batteries throughout the nation. Both Nike-Ajax and Nike-Hercules can be fired from the same system. The Army has long been aware of the urgent need for the development of an anti-missile missile. The Army project in this field would be the next addition to the Nike family, the Nike-Zeus.

Col. Staub could not give a definite date on which work may start on the Central Missouri Nike sites, but once started, construction time might require a year. Any area housing for the complement of men should be within ten minutes of the bases. Construction of the Stockley and Sutherland sites is also dependent on anticipated appropriations for their erection.

After Col. Staub's talk there was a complete review of plans for the Whiteman Community Jubilee in July, led by Col. Harold E. Humfeld, commander, 340th Bombardment Wing, who presided at the meeting.

Rockefeller, Nixon Mum On Politics

GOP Leaders Meet Briefly, But Avoid Political Hints

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon and Nelson A. Rockefeller, potential rivals for the Republican presidential nomination next year, met briefly Thursday—and carefully avoided any hint of politics.

Even a compliment by the vice president to New York's governor was kept nonpartisan by including a pair of Democrats in the praise.

Nixon was noncommittal on a report that Leonard Hall, former Republican national chairman, is to direct Nixon's campaign in 1960 for the GOP presidential nomination.

He and Rockefeller were here for a ceremony commemorating the 350th anniversary of discovery of the Hudson River. With them on the speakers' platform were Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who have been mentioned as Democratic presidential possibilities.

"We must give a great deal of credit" to Rockefeller, Meyner and Wagner, said Nixon in his speech, "for their contributions to urban development."

After addresses, the four went together by helicopter to the aircraft carrier Wasp, anchored in the river, for a brief inspection.

Back ashore, Nixon sped to Idlewild Airport and left on a jet flight to fill a speaking engagement in San Francisco. Rockefeller flew to Washington for a bipartisan meeting with the New York congressional delegation.

When he arrived from the capital, Nixon was asked by reporters about a dispatch in the New York Mirror that Hall would run his campaign.

"I would simply say that no decisions have been made with regard to the 1960 campaign," Nixon replied. "I will say that Leonard Hall is a good friend of mine."

Hall, now an attorney at Garden City, N. Y., could not be reached for comment.

No Bargain Under Duress, Threats, Herter Tells Reds

GENEVA (AP)—The Western Big Three warned the Soviets Thursday that the Geneva conference might collapse "in a few days" unless they dropped their insistence on a one-year deadline for ending the occupation of West Berlin.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, in a tense secret meeting, made it clear to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko that the West would refuse to bargain under "threats or duress."

A U. S. spokesman disclosed Thursday that Gromyko assured Herter that the Soviet proposals presented Wednesday did not constitute an ultimatum.

Apparently unconvinced that Moscow was ready to drop its time limit demand entirely, Herter told Gromyko that the Western powers intended to go ahead with the Geneva talks on a day-to-day basis.

Herter told Gromyko that his plane was ready to leave for Washington on four hours' notice if the Soviets refuse to bargain reasonably.

Exerting maximum diplomatic pressure, American officials said Gromyko's one-year time limit proposal does not even form "a basis for discussion."

They reported the Soviet foreign minister listened in a stiff and formal manner as Herter, as spokesman for the Western Powers, warned him they took a serious view of the latest Soviet move.

Although familiar with English, Gromyko insisted on a running translation of Herter's statement into Russian.

Western officials declined to disclose Gromyko's reaction. Presumably he intends to communicate with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev before giving a definitive reply.

Khrushchev, who is visiting the Latvian capital of Riga, meanwhile lashed out at the West for rejecting the Soviet proposals and pursuing what he called a power policy.

The Soviet leader said Gromyko's proposals "would lower tensions in Europe and liquidate forever the remnants of World War II."

He expressed regret that the United States, Britain and France were refusing to end their occupation.

Children Escape Injury When Two Tree Limbs Fall

Two large limbs fell off a tree, one of them blocking the street at 217 East St. Louis, about 6:35 p. m. Thursday. Only moments earlier Sgt. Charles E. Rowan, who lives at that address and is stationed at Whiteman AFB, had called his young children out from under the tree, where they had been playing, for fear of such an incident.

The limbs, both about a foot in diameter and 30 feet long, had been weakened by rotting, and recent winds. Smaller limbs had recently fallen from the tree, and it was this that had alerted Rowan to the possibility that the larger ones may fall.

Rowan, noticing the threatening weather, had called his boys, Willie, 3, and Shan, 2, into the house only about ten minutes before the limbs fell.

The Sedalia police department was called to remove the limb that blocked the street.

Warrensburg, Knob Noster Hit by Storm

High Winds Blow Down Trees, Wires And TV Antennas

Damaging surface winds, thunder and electrical storms did considerable damage in Warrensburg and Knob Noster Thursday afternoon. The storm struck Knob Noster about 4:10 o'clock and Warrensburg shortly after 4:30. Winds raged at between 75 and 80 miles per hour in both towns.

Only one persons was reported injured in the storm and that was in Warrensburg.

Mrs. Frank Bell, Warrensburg, was knocked away from her telephone when a bolt of lightning hit wires at the rear of her house and passed through electric wiring. She was thrown to the floor, but was not seriously injured.

She was taken to the Warrensburg Medical Center where she received treatment from Dr. Keith D. Jones, who reported she did not receive burns and is resting well at the Center.

According to Warrensburg Chief of Police James Rippey, a minor fire, caused by lightning, did a little damage to a house, but it was quickly extinguished.

He said about three out of every five streets were blocked by trees and live wires. He said numerous calls came to the station, reporting trees and utility poles burning.

It was reported that all street lights in Warrensburg were out, and communication was at a minimum.

A huge tree was uprooted by the high winds in trailer park, nearly upsetting a trailer. Rippey said the tree's roots were directly under the trailer. No damage was done to the trailer.

The police radio antenna was ripped off the court house roof, as were television antennas throughout Warrensburg. One chimney was reported to have been toppled by the winds.

It was reported that several buildings had been torn down and a farmer said a barn on his farm had been blown down.

KOKO radio station in Warrensburg was off the air from 4:30 to 6:30 p. m. due to power failure. No other injuries were reported.

A severe wind and rain storm bowled over trees, power lines and TV antennas in Knob Noster and at Whiteman Air Force Base Thursday evening. The storm struck about 4:10 o'clock and lasted about an hour. There were no injuries reported.

The weather detachment at WAFB clocked the wind at 66 knots (about 80 miles per hour). TV antennas were blown down and a few roofs sprang leaks, but there was no major damage reported at the base.

Knob Noster was cluttered with uprooted trees and fallen limbs which took down power lines with them. Electric and telephone services were out for at least an hour all over town. Rainfall was described as "quite a bit." There was no official measure nor estimate available last night.

The heavy, black clouds began breaking as the storm subsided.

Cushmans Received By Sedalia Police

The scooters, with their cabs, will provide their occupants with protection from the elements. The three-wheeled vehicles are equipped with self-starters, three-speed transmissions and hydraulic brakes.

They were purchased through Roy Bozarth of Earth Motors at a cost of $1800.

Drop Expanded Plan

Federal Aid To Airports Law to Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—Moves in Congress for expanded federal spending on airports collapsed Thursday.

Senate-House conferees abandoned efforts to write legislation for a long-range program of enlarged federal airport grants, and decided to go instead for a two-year expansion of the present law.

This was a considerable victory for the views of President Eisenhower, but it appeared that Senate and House Democratic leaders played a big role in it.

The leaders in both branches were known to have urged the conferees to hold down the bill to the greatest extent possible.

One of the leaders was understood to have advised Democrats on the conference committee they should just try to keep the airports program going through the Eisenhower administration because the Democrats will elect a president next year.

The present federal aid to airports law expires June 30. It provides for 63 million dollars a year in federal aid; the extension would continue it at that figure until June 30, 1961.

The Senate had voted for a four-year program with a total of 465 million dollars in federal funds. The House had approved a four-year program at a total of 297 million.

No Injuries in Train Derailment Near Carrollton

CARROLLTON, Mo. (AP)—Three cars of a westbound Wabash passenger train were derailed near Wakenda, Mo., Thursday but none of the 43 passengers or members of the crew was hurt.

The accident took place on a passing track half a mile west of the Wakenda station, which is about 10 miles southeast of here. None of the cars overturned.

A. B. Cook, Wabash station agent at Wakenda, said trainmen believed the derailment was caused by tracks which had been spread through expansion under summer heat. The train, known as City of Kansas City, was traveling only 15 miles an hour at the time and was halted quickly.

There was no interference with a train which was passing on the regular track in the other direction.

CATHOLIC BISHOP EXPELLED FROM RED CHINA KILLED

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—A Roman Catholic bishop expelled from China by the Communists was killed here Wednesday in an automobile accident. He was Bishop Job Tchen, 70, who came to Brazil five years ago. The station wagon in which he was riding hit a redbank and upset.

For Crippled Children

Keglers to Compete In Benefit Program

Sedalia bowlers will compete in the second annual telethon benefit program for the Crippled Children's Center Friday night at Broadway Lanes. It is hoped that the program, which will be telecast over KMOS-TV, will net $1,500 for the Crippled Children's Center.

All Sedalians are urged to participate in this program—either as a bowler or as a contributing spectator. The entire proceeds, including the amount netted from bowling fees and the contributions of television viewers, will be given to the Crippled Children's Center.

Charley Thompson and Jim Carter, co-owners of Broadway Lanes, have made all 16 lanes available, without cost, for this charity. Sponsors of programs over KMOS-TV have contributed time so the program can be televised. Also, KMOS-TV has agreed to continue the program beyond normal broadcasting hours—without cost.

This year's program, which is being promoted by the Sedalia Kiwanis Club, will include match games between many Sedalia civic clubs. Six teams have entered, but Bill Dugan and Norman Pitcairn, co-chairmen of the program, said that they hoped other teams from other civic organizations would participate.

Besides the match games, activity will include challenge games between individual bowlers; matches between regular league teams; and requests of the attending and television audience. The management of Broadway Lanes has offered a new Manhattan bowling ball—valued at $25—to every bowler who converts the 6-7 split on a specially reserved alley. The fee for every attempt at this split is $1. Bowling shoe will have a 25 cent rental fee and that money also will be given to the Crippled Children's Center.

The viewing audience can call in and request to see a certain person bowl, or any other reasonable request. Where "reason" stops is a question. During the first program for this charity, thousands saw William F. "Bill"

Alertness Stressed

Chamber Projects Discussed By ABW Meeting Speaker

Projects and accomplishments of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce were explained by Jack Faber, secretary manager of the Chamber, in a talk Tuesday evening, June 2, at the American Business Women's Association dinner meeting at Bothwell Hotel.

The first Chamber of Commerce, Faber said, originated in Marseilles, France, and the first in this country was started in the State of New York in 1768. He gave a brief history of the Chamber locally and told of the many services it does daily for the community which is, of course, its purpose.

Faber stressed the fact that everyone should be on the alert for individuals conducting confidence games, unsound and illegal business operations and other activities designed to fleece the public. If and when strangers approach, he said, with some high sounding venture, investigate first by contacting the Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber, through its business relations division is able to run down such activities and find out whether they are legal or not.

"Don't lock the barn after the horse is stolen," he warned. "Make inquiries first."

In telling of the accomplishments of the Chamber, Faber told of the part played by the Chamber in establishing such industries as Town and Country Shoes, National Engineering, Precision Engineering, as well as assistance in securing the new state office of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, the United Shoe Machinery Co., and in helping to reactivate the Sedalia Air Force Base, now Whiteman Air Force Base.

He told of the agriculture committee's work with the rural people, and encouraging organizations to bring conventions and meetings of all types to Sedalia, and of the outstanding off-street parking facilities with which the Chamber also helped.

Services which are continually performed by the Chamber, he stated are: General information bureau, housing bureau, business relations bureau, city directories and research library, information booth at Missouri State Fair, selling new industries on Sedalia; calendar of events, organizational directories, out of state maps and tourist guides; Santa Claus suits.

Denver Boy Wins National Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joel Montgomery, a confident seventh-grader from Denver, ticked off the letters in Fanfarone and catamaran Thursday and thereby won the National Spelling Bee.

Joel, who is 12, won the title and the $1,000 cash prize that goes with it on two of the less troublesome words tossed at him during the brain-testing bee that started Wednesday with a field of 70 boys and girls under 16.

But he passed where Bobby Crossley, 13, of Center Square, Pa., failed.

Joel and Bobby spelled it out when their last remaining competitors dropped out by misspelling such stumblers as prophylaxis, epiphysis and pockade.

Both Joel and Bobby fumbled vinaigrais, which means sour-tempered. Joel made it "vinegrous" and Bobby "vinagrous."

Then Bobby, a veteran of last year's bee when he finished 14th, garbled fanaronade. He tried "fanferanade" for the word that denotes swaggering or bluster.

Joel, husky son of a Denver lumber salesman, was the first boy to win the national bee in five years.

Girls had captured the honors since William Cashmore, from the same Norristown, Pa., area as finalist Crossley, won in 1954.

Griming through tears, Bobby congratulated Joel and admitted he'd never expected to get as far as he did.

Boys dominated this bee. At the start there were 37 girls and 33 boys, but at the end the best a girl could be was fourth place.

Third, behind Bobby, was Allan Lee Kramer, 13, of Lake Worth, Fla. Then came Elaine Hassel, 13, of Dallas.

Rodger Cunningham, 11, Keno, Va., was fifth; Susan Kirsin, 13, Shippensburg, Pa., sixth; Betty Joe Abel, 14, North Canton, Ohio, seventh; Irvin Gordon, 14, Marlboro, N. H., eighth; Charlotte Ballard, 14, Hazelton, Kan., ninth; Cathy Coates, 13, Rocky River, Ohio, 10th; and Jeannette McGhee, 14, Jackson, Ohio, 11th.

Grain Future Gains Lose Ground During Moderate Liquidation

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market lost ground all along the line on moderate liquidation in late dealings Thursday on the Board of Trade. Most declines were held to fractions of a cent.

Broadest setbacks were in oats and rye where there had been an accumulation of a good margin of profits over the past few days. Earlier in the week both grains were well supported on reports that the crops were deteriorating as a result of dry weather and bug infestations.

Wheat closed 1/4 cent a bushel lower on 1958 crop months, July $1.84-84, and the 1959 crop months unchanged; corn unchanged to 1/2 lower, July $1.26-26; oats 1/2 cent lower, July new type contract $1.24-24; rye 1/4 cent lower, July $1.22-22; soybeans 3/4 cent lower, July $2.24-24.

Keglers

Brown, well known Sedalia attorney, and George Thompson, principal of Horace Mann school, perform some outlandish stunts, which helped net $700 for the Crippled Children's Center.

Brown, among other things, was asked to push a ball down an alley with his nose and knock down the head pin. He accomplished the feat — blindfolded once and with the aid of his vision another time — in helping the program's success.

Thompson, the ping-pong king-pin of Sedalia, kept the alleys hot by paddling the 16 pound bowling balls toward the pins for strikes.

Another stunt which brought in a generous contribution was the superb clutch performance of Mrs. Charles Van Dyne, wife of the vice-president of Adco, Inc. A viewer pledged $2 for every pin she downed with one ball and she made the contributor pay in full with a perfect strike.

2 Critically Hurt In Paint Sprayer Explosion, Fire

HUNTER, Kas. (AP)—Two persons were critically burned in a blast and resulting fire from explosion of a paint sprayer in a home here late Wednesday.

Reported in critical condition at the hospital in Lincoln, Kas., were Mrs. C. W. Brown, 73, and Gale Gallion, 35, manager of the Hunter Co-op elevator. Physicians said the two would be transferred to the University of Kansas Medical Center in Kansas City as soon as it is safe to move them.

Gallion was using a pressure paint sprayer to redecorate a bedroom of the Brown residence when it exploded. The fire set Gallion's clothing ablaze and burned Mrs. Brown who was washing the supper dishes in the adjoining kitchen.

The explosion ripped off the roof of the home, blew out all the windows, and damaged and cracked the walls. The chimney was blown off and light fixtures ripped from the ceiling. The fire that followed was fought by the volunteer fire department and confined to the bedroom and a closet.
